

Summary

Production orders are the base document that tells the system you are going to create something from something else. Based on several user requests, the Express Production functionality has now been embedded directly into the Production Order allowing users to very quickly process production on the fly.

In addition, a refresh button has been added in Orchestrated 4.2 to assist with making corrections.

Version 4.2.1.0