Summary

When running the built-in system financial reports, users often want to be able to verify where the totals came from for each account. This requires being able to "drill down" into the numbers on the report; those reports are not built with a direct drill down link.

Version 4.5.1.0