

Summary

The purpose of the PdO Release Wizard is to allow a user to release multiple production orders at once rather than releasing each production order individually. This can be helpful for releasing an entire production run at one time or for those customers who plan production and need to release multiple production orders for their production team.

How to

Production > Automation > PdO Release Wizard

When the PdO Release Wizard Opens it will default to Process Type All. You can click the drop-down menu and choose a specific production process type if desired. You can also filter PdOs by Start Date and End Date.
